

Representatives To Sell Domes

The exclusive fabricator and builder of the aluminum geodesic dome — TEMCOR, a Torrance company — has announced the organization of a national sales force.

Robert D. McCauley, TEMCOR sales manager, said six U.S. territories have been awarded to representatives who will present the story of the aluminum geodesic dome to architects and planners of their areas.

Need For Managers Revealed

Sister M. Magdalen, administrator of Little Company of Mary Hospital, spoke on "Why Managers Are Needed" in the opening session of the hospital's management seminar.

The nine-week seminar for hospital supervisory personnel will explore management methods and techniques similar to those used in industry.

Members of Little Company of Mary's administrative staff are conducting the semiweekly sessions which include lectures, films and workshops. Other subjects to be pursued are "Participative Management," "Communications Skills" and "Controlling Costs in Relation to Income."

James E. Riedel, personnel director, is coordinator for the seminar.

The course will continue through January when certificates of merit will be awarded to participants.

Police Nab Youths on Drug Count

Two Torrance youths were arrested on drug charges early Saturday.

Police said Stephen E. Schorr, 20, of 2706 Normalyn St., and Steven Paul, VanderLinden, 18, of 1528 W. 207th St., were found slumped over the counter at a restaurant on Pacific Coast Highway at 4 a.m. they were unable to sit upright or walk without assistance, police said.

A red capsule resembling the restricted drug Seconal was found in VanderLinden's pocket, according to investigating officers.

Both youths were booked for possession of dangerous drugs and being under the influence of drugs.

Traffic Signals Approved

Approval of a participation agreement with the city of Torrance for modernizing traffic signals at Redondo Beach and Crenshaw Boulevards has been announced by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

The proposed project is within both the city and county unincorporated area and the two jurisdictions will share in the cost.

Modifications will include the incorporation of highway safety lighting and pedestrian signal indications, Hahn said.

Redondo Beach and Crenshaw boulevards are Master Plan Highways which carry more than 50,000 vehicles per day.

"The interest evidenced throughout the nation in the TEMCOR dome for use as theaters, auditoriums, convention centers, school gymnasiums and office complexes, has made it apparent that local representation is needed in the various districts," McCauley said.

Licensed exclusively by Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Company, and authorized by R. Buckminster Fuller, inventor of the mathematical principles of geodesic construction, TEMCOR has erected the structures in Panama and Alaska and throughout the continental United States.

The first aluminum dome built on the geodesic principle was a 2000-seat theater-auditorium erected by Kaiser in Honolulu in 1957. The most unique was a five-dome complex erected last year in Auburn, Calif., for the Placer County governmental offices.

The domes provide nearly 200 feet of unobstructed interiors, and six men can erect one in less than a month, reflecting savings in time and costs for an entire project.

GET MOVING!

University of California research indicates that "some fat people may be that way not because they eat more than normal, but because they exercise less."

MEETING OF THE MINDS . . . Leaders of the League of Women Voters visited Supervisor Kenneth Hahn recently to get his views on current civic issues, specifically rapid transit. Hahn commended the league on advising citizens on key issues. Shown enjoying coffee are (from left) Mrs. E. M. Grabbe, Manhattan Beach; Mrs. Charles Randall, 4925 Calle de Arboles; Supervisor Hahn; and Mrs. Charles W. Lobb, 1843 244th St. Lomita.
